

Acknowledgement permission form

The Canadian Medical Association Journal (CMAJ) allows authors to acknowledge anyone who contributes to their article in a manner that does not qualify them for authorship. Examples of contributions that can be acknowledged include the critical review of the study proposal or assistance with statistical analysis.

The authors of the article below have identified you as someone they would like to name in their Acknowledgements section. The CMAJ requires your written permission to do so.

Article ID number:

Title:

Author(s):

I, the undersigned, agree to be identified in the acknowledgements section of the above-named article for my contribution to its preparation.

Date:

Print name:

Signature: